

What to Expect

The 1890 David Scott Scholarship Program (full ride) encourages outstanding students at 1890 institutions to pursue and complete baccalaureate degrees in the food and agricultural sciences and related fields that would lead to a highly skilled food and agricultural systems workforce.

Lincoln's College of Agriculture, Environmental and Human Sciences

Designated a land-grant university in 1890, Lincoln University of Missouri has long focused on preparing interested students to be competent and competitive in the agriculture and agribusiness fields, with the scientific and technical know-how to lead farming into the modern era. Today, Lincoln's CAEHS proudly teaches a diverse population of students the principles and concepts of agriculture and its applications.

For more information please contact:

Department of Agriculture &
Environmental Sciences

Attn: Irasema Steck

219 Founders Hall

816 Chestnut St.

Jefferson City, MO 65101

(573) 681-5380

SteckI@LincolnU.edu

820 Chestnut Street
Jefferson City, MO 65101

College of Agriculture,
Environmental and Human Sciences

1890 DAVID SCOTT
SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

1890 David Scott Scholarship Criteria

Find the power of working together with faculty who are devoted to the growth and development of the renowned scientists and entrepreneurs of tomorrow.

Entering freshmen for each fall semester must meet the following criteria to receive the 1890 Scholarships provided by the LU College of Agriculture, Environmental and Human Sciences (CAEHS):

- Must be a citizen or national of the United States
- Must have been accepted for admission to Lincoln University of Missouri for full-time enrollment and be enrolled not later than one year after the date of acceptance
- Must select a major course of study within CAEHS or a related discipline
- Intend to pursue a career in the food and agricultural sciences, including agribusiness or financial management
- Have a minimum cumulative GPA of at least 2.8 at the time of application and must maintain a GPA of 3.0 each semester enrolled and through the time in the program
- Must be enrolled as a full-time student in a program of study within CAEHS to be eligible for 1890 support
- Must reside in LU housing

Lincoln University CAEHS will require the following supporting documents for high school applicants:

- Privacy Act Advisory Statement and Release Form
- Completion of the current year FAFSA
- Biographical Questionnaire
- Letter of recommendation from high school counselor
- A current resume
- Provide a 500- to 800-word essay describing the interest and intention to pursue a career in the food or agricultural sciences or related field
- Current and most recent official transcript with the school's seal and/or signature of an authorized school official
- Signed and dated application (with the signature of parent or guardian if an applicant is under 18 years old)

What Lincoln students say

"The Agriculture Department welcomes every student and encourages strong student-faculty interactions. The staff and faculty prepare students for academic success through technology-driven classroom instruction, research, internships, and other activities for excellent careers and entrepreneurship."

— JOVITA DESHA, CLASS OF 2025 (JEFFERSON CITY, MO)

